NURSE SAW JUDGE KILL, SHE TESTIFIES

Avers He Offered Her Sum of $500 to Maintain Silence About Tragedy.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 23.—The State scored heavily at yesterday's session of the second degree murder trial of William H. McGannon, chief justice of the municipal court, charged with slaying Harold S. Kagi last May, when its chief witness, Miss May M. Neely, a nurse, for sixteen years the friend of McGannon, took the witness stand and swore she saw McGannon shoot Kagi and also swore that the judge offered her $500 to "keep her mouth shut" about the shooting and to go to County Prosecutor Baskin and retract what she had told him and the grand jury regarding the case.

She testified that her sister, Mrs. Louis Webb, was concealed in a closet in the room at the time and heard the offer of $500.

"I saw McGannon pull something from his pocket and simultaneously a shot rang out. Then Harold Kagi lurched forward," Miss Neely testified.

Seven days after the shooting, she testified, she went to the judge's private office and told him to make public the facts, advising him to say the shot was fired accidentally, and also offered to take the blame for the shooting.

"It is too late now," she testified McGannon replied.

HILLTOP FLASHES LAID TO RADIUM

Shimmering Lights on Crest Believed to Signify Rich Deposits Beneath.

HARRISONBURG, Va., Dec. 23.—Mole hill, near this city, may contain incalculable wealth in radium deposits.

Buried in the basaltic rock some of the richest radium deposits in the world may lie buried, according to stories which circulated about the town with the news that the summit had been purchased.

At times, during damp, dark nights, sudden flashes, like auroral lights, have been seen to shoot upward from the sides and crest of the hill.

After remaining for a time like a shimmering halo about the summit they disappear, only to give place to others that follow during the course of the night.

The geologic composition of the mass forming the hill, which is a basaltic rock, is altogether foreign to anything else found in this section of the United States.

Specimens of boulders found have blisters of jet black crystals, with edges as sharp and keen cutting as glass.

These are said to be composed of hornblende, from which radium is derived.

The ridge rises 1,900 feet above sea level. It is the highest elevation for miles around and has long been popular with picnic parties. It controls a wonderful panoramic view of the surrounding country.

GETS 2-YEAR SENTENCE BECAUSE HE HELD VIOLIN

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 23.—While the diplomats of the Old World at Geneva are demonstrating to the world that kindness may be all right in its place—but that place isn't in the United States.

William H. Evans has discovered, too, that kindness sometimes leads to grief.

Evans learned to his sorrow in court here that the punishment for stealing a violin valued at $2,000 included two years' imprisonment in the State penitentiary.

Evans, while confessing in court that he stole the violin, stated incidentally that he merely held it for a passerby when he was accosted on the street by a stranger who asked him to "hold it a couple of minutes."

CLAIM FRENCH MERMAID WEARS DIAMOND RINGS

PARIS, Dec. 23.—The old Breton legend of the mermaid siren who lured men to their death off Cape Ferat has been revived by the mysterious death of two men found drowned off the rock the legend says the mermaid is to be seen sitting on every evening.

The day after the bodies were discovered two Breton fishermen told the police authorities that they had seen the mermaid at close quarters from their boat, and that she wore two diamond rings that they recognized as having belonged to Mlle. Jean Sout, the Parisian actress, who was drowned off the cape five years ago.

SEIZE THREE STILLS IN RAIDS NEAR LYNCHBURG

LYNCHBURG, Va., Dec. 23.—Federal revenue raiders from Lynchburg yesterday raided and destroyed three stills in the Little Piney river, destroying three outfalls and a considerable amount of material in process of distillation. One still of 300 gallons capacity was being operated and two men were arrested.

The revenue men rode horseback thirty miles at night into the mountains, this being necessary in order to get through the alertness of the moonshiners who were greatly surprised by the raid.

REFUSE TE DEUM TO HONOR CONSTANTINE

LONDON, Dec. 23.—The clerics of the Greek Catholic Church in London yesterday refused to celebrate a Te Deum to celebrate the return of Constantine to Athens.

The Daily Chronicle understands that the British, French, and Italian ministers have been instructed to have no official dealings with Constantine's government and probably will leave Athens at once.
